

JANUARY 2017

Yeovil College Beauty Therapist Makes UK Squad Shortlist For WorldSkills Kazan 2019

Shannon Potter, Beauty Therapy Level 3 student at Yeovil College, has been invited to join the Squad UK Shortlist for WorldSkills Kazan 2019, following her win at the WorldSkills UK National Skills Competition Finals in November.

WorldSkills is the world's largest international skills competition which takes place every two years in cities around the globe. The UK enters a team into these competitions and is currently ranked seventh in the world. Competitors who have represented the UK at past WorldSkills Competitions and their employers have benefited immensely from the world class training programmes offered as part of the international competition journey and competing on the international stage.

Shannon is the first learner from Yeovil College to reach this stage and she will now receive additional training from WorldSkills experts before the final team is announced in the summer of 2018.

Beauty Lecturer Jennie Workman mentored and supported Shannon through their studies and said "We're all so very proud of Shannon and everything she's achieved. She really deserves this recognition as she is talented young lady. Her success I'm sure is down to her safe working practices, professional attitude, high level of skills and dexterity, management of time and appearance."

To find out more about WorldSkills UK and the success of Team UK in international competitions please visit www.worldskillsuk.org

WorldSkills UK champions world-class apprenticeships and technical skills. We do this by engaging young people in skills competitions, delivering experiential careers events, role modelling to challenge stereotypes and using our research to support the apprenticeship agenda. Our goals are to support business competitiveness, young people's employability and excellence in standards.