

Yeovil College learners competing in World Skills

Yeovil College is proud to announce that two Beauty Therapy learners have been selected to compete in the World Skills Competition held at the NEC in Birmingham on Sunday 22 May 2016.

Level 2 learner Jasmine Boulton was selected through her high level of skills and dexterity, professionalism and dedication to the Beauty Therapy industry, and will be competing with her model Jasmine Fitzsimons. The competition includes a mini facial (cleanser, face mask, tone and moisturise) with a day make-up and Crème red polish with nail art (nail art applied to ring fingers only).

Level 3 learner Shannon Potter will be representing the college with her model April Simms, having competed at Level 2 last year. The competition will include back treatment, cleanse exfoliation and back massage, a facial treatment with evening make-up, and French polish with nail art (nail art applied to ring fingers only).

Both students will be giving it their all, and if successful will be competing at the finals in August. Everyone at Yeovil College wishes both therapists the very best of luck on Sunday.
